June 28, 1926.

Mrs. Mary Greene Wilson,
Douglasville, Texas.

My dear Cousin Mary:

Your welcome letter of June 18th came very promptly to hand, and I regret exceedingly to hear of Anne's illness. The flu this time has been very hard to get rid of. I still have a slight trouble in my throat and at times I ache awfully caused by the flue I contracted at Waco last Fall. I have also had intestional flu two or three years back. It came on me suddenly while I was away from home, but I got rid of it in about 10 days.

Immediately upon receiving your letter, I wrote a friend of mine who is connected with the Fishborn Motor Company of Dallas, Texas, and I sent him a check fo buy some flowers and send over to the hospital. After doing all of this learned that this young man had moved to Austin. I presume, however, that when he received my check he sent it back to some florist in Dallas and that the flowers were delivered. I only discovered Saturday that this young man had gone to Austin.

I also have two or three other friends in Dallas who would have looked after this for me, but I was quite sure that this young man was there. But I trust by this time that Anne has been able to return home. Give her my love and best wishes.

Now for yourself I trust you are taking good care of yourself as you know you can live a long time if you will watch yourself. Your grandfather Greene lived into the eighties.

I am writing this letter now hurridly and will write you again later ancomplete letter. Give my good wishes to all of the family, Tom, John, their wives, and Dr. Witte. Some day I am coming to see you all again and go through the towns as a breeze just like I did before as I do everything quickly--have to, I have so much to do.

With love and good wishes, I beg to remain

Yours most sincerely.
